Proposed Ordinance Requires Everyone Now In Business District To Provide Own Parking

Startling new feature of the proposed zoning ordinance is Article 7A which requires off-street parking facilities of all uses, new and existing, in all commercial districts "as set forth in Table 7A."

Uses "set forth" in Table 7A apparently cover all commercial, and professional uses, and some non-commercial, such as libraries, museums and galleries. The formula for number of parking spaces required differs with use, and the second figure of the equation has been left blank, no doubt for further study by the commission and squabbles with the citizens.

Table 7A in its now incomplete form: banks must provide one parking space for every blank number of feet of floor area. Other uses which are required to provide one parking space per each blank number of square feet of floor area are: retail stores and shops; restaurants; warehouses, wholesale establishments; professional and business offices.

Doctors' and dentists' offices come under a different formula. They must provide two parking spaces per doctor or dentist.

Still different formulae apply to the following uses:

Hospitals and nursing homes, one space per blank number of beds or blank number of employees; hotels and motels, one space per guest room of blank (Continued On Page Sixteen)

"Colorado System" Frees Teachers To Teach, Warren Edwards Reports After Visit To Experimental Schools

Carmel High School Principal Warren Edwards spent three and a half days last week observing team teaching and schedule modification in Jefferson County School District, Colorado. He returned with team teaching ideas he considers applicable to Carmel High School in the fields of science, English, history and mathematics, also schedule modification concepts which allow time for courses in music, art and crafts in addition to college preparatory work, he told the Pine Cone yesterday.

The Jefferson County School system, for three years, has been experimenting with team teaching and schedule modification under a Ford Foundation Grant. Dr. M. Delbert Lobb directs the project, "Which is a good deal," Mr. Edwards asserts.

Dr. Lobb, whose title is director of research, took Mr. Edwards to high schools in Jefferson County. Mr. Edwards spent most of his time talking to teachers, the rest discussing the project with Dr. Lobb.

Teachers were enthusiastic. Team teaching gave them time for more preparation and research; to employ better teaching techniques; aided student discipline and counseling.

The physical set up for team teaching was good in the Jefferson County schools, Mr. Edwards observed. Each school has an auditorium seating 750 pupils, or half the student body; a little theater, seating capacity 150 students; a study hall, or cafeteria capable of being used as a study hall.

This is how team teaching works according to Mr. Edwards. A team of six teachers is assigned to instruct eight sections of 25-30 pupils each in United States history. One teacher takes the whole group for one period in a large lecture hall. The other teachers are free for that period after taking roll and organizing the group. They use this time for research, preparation etc.

The teacher in the lecture hall instructs in a special unit, for example the American farmer in 1890, using an overhead projector instead of a blackboard. The projector allows the teacher to face the students at all times. The screen is higher and bigger than a blackboard and used in normal light. Sometimes student panels discuss a subject or guest authorities address the group during lecture periods.

Other days in a week, each section of 25-30 students meets with one of the six instructors for detailed work, testing, etc. There are free days for supervised study in the study halls.

To illustrate schedule modification, Mr. Edwards uses a two-teacher team in biology in Golden (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Above is shown the plan proposed for the central business district which Herbert Blanks, planning commission chairman, presented last night to the city council in a joint meeting of planning commission and council.

A system of one-way streets (see arrows on plan) takes traffic around the C-1-C retail shopping central district core, between Junipero and Lincoln Streets. Ocean Avenue will be closed to traffic between Dolores and San Carlos Streets, creating a mall. Parking will be allowed on Ocean Avenue between Junipero and San Carlos Streets and Dolores and Lincoln Streets.

Entrances to the central C-1-C district will be down Ocean Avenue hill to Junipero Street; Junipero Street; (both two-way); Camino Del Monte - San Carlos Street, (one-way) through town; up Ocean Avenue to Lincoln (two-way.)

Exits from the Ocean Avenue shopping area will be Ocean above Junipero; Ocean below Lincoln; San Carlos below Seventh; Junipero can also be used as a secondary undeveloped exit across the business district.

Sixth Street will be a one-way street going west between Junipero and Lincoln Streets. Seventh Street will be one-way north. From the intersection of Junipero Street and Camino Del Monte, traffic will be one-way into San Carlos Street as far as Seventh Avenue.

Two-way traffic will be allowed on Fifth Street between Junipero and Dolores past the post office.

Tuesday Meeting Set For Show Down On J.C. Price; Nuttall Report Expected

Carmel, Monterey, and Pacific Grove school district representatives will meet next Tuesday night in an attempt to break the junior college district deadlock, Carmel board chairman Ted Fehring announced last night.

Fehring appointed trustees Mrs. Betsy Bennett and George Yates as Carmel's delegates to the three-district session. They will discuss future negotiations for the sale of the MPC plant, by the Monterey high school district in the event Carmel should vote to join the newly formed junior college district.

They will meet with two representatives from Monterey, two from Pacific Grove, and Drayton Nuttall, chief of the school district organization bureau.

The new college district was authorized by Monterey high school district voters March 1. It will have the same boundaries as the high school district. Carmel trustees are considering annexing to the district, but are as yet undecided because they are not convinced as to the advantages of such a move, particularly since they cannot get an estimate of this district's probable share in the purchase price of the MPC campus.

The Monterey board has indicated only that this would be "an equitable amount," and has maintained that it cannot be more specific because final negotiations will have to be made between the high school board as sellers and (Continued on Page Four)

Kite Festival Set For Saturday; No Parade This Year

If March winds blow and there is no rain, children and adults will fill the sky above the high school football field with gaily bobbing kites on Saturday afternoon during the Carmel Kite Festival.

There will be no parade this year before the event which starts at 1:30 o'clock. The parade has been discontinued because fewer and fewer entrants each year wish to risk damaging their handmade kites before the festival, according to William Wakefield, director of the Carmel School District recreation department which sponsors the festival with the Carmel Lions Club.

Rules of the contest are: kites must be made by entrants; entries may be made in only one class and the high-flying contest; the kite must fly to win a prize; no com- (Continued on Page Four)

LITTLE LEAGUE TRYOUTS
SLATED FOR MARCH 26

Boys in the 8-12 age group interested in playing Little League baseball are invited to attend the opening tryout session on Saturday, March 26 at the Carmel High baseball field. In order to be eligible for Little League, a boy must be eight years of age before August 1, 1960 and must not have reached his thirteenth birthday before August 1, 1960. Boys new to Little League in Carmel must have copies of their birth certificate. As a service to prospective Little Leaguers, the Camera Shop on Ocean Avenue will make photostatic copies of your birth certificate.

Additional Little League tryouts will be held on April 2 and April 9 after which the players will be assigned to a major or minor league squad. On April 25 at 5:30, the 1960 Little League will get underway with six teams making an effort to unseat the San Carlos Realty as Carmel champions. Jack Miller's gang has won the Little League title twice in three years and will be favored to add the 1960 pennant to its collection. The other entries in the league besides San Carlos Realty are Pilot Market, Sport Shop, Boys' Town, Turner & McEldowney, and Wilder & Jones.

In order to provide this healthy recreational service to the community, the Little League directors need additional help in the form of managers for the farm team clubs. Anyone fond of baseball and youngsters who is interested in helping with one of the teams is asked to contact Jack Miller at the San Carlos Realty. The Carmel Little League is considered one of the most successful leagues in Northern California and has provided a wealth of enjoyment for players, sponsors, and parents in the community.

After three years at the helm of Carmel Little League, Bill Woolsey has turned over the wheel to Bob Connell who will be the 1960 president. Other officers of the cozy little circuit are Ralph Thompson, vice president; Jack Cate, secretary; and Van King, treasurer. Help is needed by the directors in the form of rummage for the Monterey Peninsula Volunteers Service which is a staunch booster for Carmel Little League. Available rummage will be picked up by calling MA 4-1085.

BASEBALL SEASON GETS UNDERWAY TOMORROW

Carmel High's varsity baseball team opens the 1960 season tomorrow afternoon at King City where the Padres will collide with the Mustangs in a vital league game. King City is rated near the top of the heap in the B-division and has the benefit of three practice games so far this season. The Padres will be taking the field for the first time tomorrow but the lineup is studded with veteran performers who have been seasoned by a year of varsity ball.

Baseball award-winners back for another year's action are Dave Hansen, catcher; Chris Wilkin, Phil O'Shea, and Jim Brown, pitchers; Bud Cunningham, first base; Ron Faia, second base; Bobby Little and Mike Draper, third base; David Fuller, shortstop; Mike Taylor, outfield; John Wilkin, catcher; and Frank Mayo, outfield. Newcomers to varsity baseball who have looked good in early-season practice are Carlos Montenegro, an all-around performer, who transferred to Carmel from Junipero Memorial High; David Harber, a freshman infielder, who has played a season of Babe Ruth League ball; Rance Kastor, Forest Cornwall, Frank Bucher, and Mike Cole who have moved up from the junior-varsity squad.

Probable starters for tomorrow's league-opener are Dave Hansen and Phil O'Shea as the battery; an infield crew of Bud Cunningham, Ron Faia, Bobby Little, and Dave Fuller; with Carlos Montenegro, Frank Mayo, and Rance Kastor in the outfield.

PADRES OVERMATCHED IN PENINSULA TOURNAMENT

Carmel High's championship basketball team which breezed through the Coast Counties Athletic League B-division in easy fashion was out of its class in the rugged Peninsula Tournament at Stanford University and bowed out after making two starts. The Padres squared off against Willow Glen High last Thursday night and put up a creditable showing before dropping a 56-50 decision. Russ Wise turned in a fine individual performance in this one, connecting for 21 points with 9 field goals and 3 charity tosses. Toby Edson, Carmel's other all-league performer, helped the Carmel cause with an 18-point output but the well-balanced Willow Glen aggregation had too many guns for the Padres.

Luck of the draw matched the Padres with favored Palo Alto in Friday night's consolation round and the PAL school gave the little Padres some brutal treatment. Palo Alto was picked to win the tournament but was upset by San Mateo Thursday night and was relegated to the consolation bracket. The Vikings got off winging against Carmel with a 26-point first quarter and poured on the pressure in the second heat to a 41-18 intermission lead. Russ Wise played his usual brilliant game but the outmanned Carmel lads were no match for the South Peninsula Athletic League champs as the final score read 71-45.

Consensus throughout the Coast Counties Athletic League is that B-division schools are too small to be in the Peninsula tourney and the A-division schools are overmatched in the Berkeley Tournament of Champions. A reasonable solution would be to match the winner of the CCAL A-division with the winner of the B-division and send the victor to the Peninsula Tournament.

CARMEL HIGH TRACK SQUAD
DROPS FIRST MEET

On a cold blustery day which was better suited to ski competition than to track, the North Salinas Vikings trimmed the Carmel Padres and the Hollister Haybalers in last Friday's league-opener for all three schools. The Vikings piled up 65½ points, Carmel had 40, and the Haybalers trailed with 31½. North Salinas had complete control of the lightweight meet, amassing 107 points to Hollister's 28 and 4 for the Little Padres.

This is the first season of track for the North Salinas High squad and Coach Jack Forcade's thin-clads started the sport in good fashion. The Vikings won 11 first places out of 13 events and appeared to be a well-conditioned squad for the early-season meet. Husky Jon Roberts took a pair of first for the Vikings, tossing the shot 53-feet and scaling the discus 129-feet.

Carmel came up with two first places as Joe Foster galloped to a win in the half-mile and Gary Clay topped the pole vaulters. Other point-makers for the Padres were Buddy Steffens, second in the mile; Gerhard Kalmus, third in the mile; Lee Oleson, second in 440; Frank Preve, fourth in 440; Julio Montenegro, third in 100; Bill True, second in 120 high hurdles; Dan Moore, second in 880; Bill Coleman, second in discus; Wylie Bryant, second in broad jump; and Dave Juwell, second in pole vault.

More track action for the Padres this Friday afternoon when the Salinas High Cowboys and the Pacific Grove Breakers invade Bardarson Field for a triangular meet. Salinas has always been a track power in the A-division of the CCAL while Coach Marty Baskin's track squads have won their share of the league meets. Coach Hadley Hicks has strengthened the Carmel squad with the addition of several basketball players and figures to pick off a few of the first places.

CARMEL MERCHANTS WIN
B-LEAGUE HOOP TITLE

Coming from behind with a brilliant last-quarter surge, the Carmel Merchant basketball team wrapped up the Pacific Grove Rec League title last Friday night at the PG gymnasium. Paced by forward Bob Wise, the Merchants exploded for 19 points in the fourth quarter to sew up the title with a 70-64 victory over the Monterey Naval Air Facility. NAF won the first-half championship of the PG Rec League while the Carmel squad latched onto the second-half title and became the eventual league title holder.

Down 37-30 at the half, the Merchants closed the gap to 48-48 near the end of the third period and went ahead 51-48 as the buzzer ended the third quarter. During the final period, the Merchants enjoyed one of their finest shooting streaks of the season and pulled away to a comfortable win.

Capitalism And Community Theatre Both Get Boost In Golden Bough's Production, Happiest Millionaire

Practically everyone connected with the spirited, stylish production of The Happiest Millionaire earns high marks at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre. The show is neatly directed, handsomely staged and costumed, and enacted by a superior cast whose several sprightly parts add up to an exceptionally unified and entertaining whole.

The play was adapted by Kyle Crichton from the biography of Anthony J. Drexel Biddle which he wrote in collaboration with the pre-inflation millionaire's daughter, herself a central figure in the play's action. The Happiest Millionaire is a sort of high-society Life With Father; Biddle, like Clarence Day's immortal parent, was an individualist of strong convictions, impulsive nature, enormous vitality and, on occasion, mighty oaths. It was Biddle's refreshing opinion that wealth was simply a means of getting the most joy out of life, and to this end he encouraged his three offspring, along with sundry strangers, to develop their natural capacities to the utmost, whether their bent happened to be singing, boxing or Bible-teaching.

Young Cordelia's attachment to her boisterous family life, which included instruction in the manly art of self-defense, brings to the test her love for amiable, aimless and enormously rich Angier Duke, and brings her Biddle-fuddled swain finally to a realization of his own potential. The incidents and characters surrounding the couple's courtship compose an affectionate and highly amusing reminiscence.

The cast, as noted before, boasts uniform excellence rather than single standouts. Bill Scholefield brings just the right amount of bravura to the role of the capricious capitalist. Carol McLin, an unusually pretty and expressive young actress, is delightful as the willful Cordelia. Mrs. Biddle, the poised and pacific element of the family, is charmingly played by Edith Karas. The tempering of young Angier under the various pressures of families is perfectly expressed in the viable and engaging performance of Bill K. Houle. Florence Venn is every inch the grande dame as Aunt Mary Drexel, and Zelma Weinfield gives a wonderful subtle and slyly funny vignette of the formidable southern aristocrat, Mrs. Duke.

Equally good account is given by the supporting cast; Jon Graves and Larry Nier as Biddle's adolescent sons, Liv and Tony; Mary Weisiger as snide, simpering Cousin Lucy Rittenhouse; Walter Paul Edwards as the family's loyal servant (and sometimes sparring partner), John Lawless; Roy Beavers as a deliveryman-cum-opera singer; Sam Karas as a slightly punchy boxer who frequents the Biddle board; Cynthia Hoxie as the unruffled maid, Emma; and Robert De Yost as a hapless escort of Cordelia's.

The production is directed by Frederick Rider, who manages the large cast and bustling action with inventive skill. The acknowledgments list a host of lenders and helping hands, and certainly the costumes and stage furnishings are wonderful period pieces from pre-World War I days. The talent and resourcefulness of the production staff is further demonstrated in the charming and substantial set. Zelma Weinfield, Dan Clark, Sandy Sheffield, Muriel Neikirk, Robert Yost, Alan Weinfield, Sally Reichard, Beth Zanides, Mary Hicks and Mary Clark are the personnel of this admirable backstage crew.

A show as good as The Happiest Millionaire is probably the best argument the Golden Bough could produce in favor of the new Peninsula Community Theatre project which it is currently boosting.

Happiest Millionaire plays Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 8:30 o'clock. —V. S.

The Roger Wagner Chorale will sing at Sunset Auditorium on March 26 as the last presentation of the Carmel Music Society's 1959-60 season. The concert starts at 8:30 o'clock.

The Chorale returned from a 12-week tour of South America in October. They appeared under the sponsorship of the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations administered by the American National Theatre and Academy for the Department of State.

Eugene Ormandy has stated, "The Roger Wagner Chorale is the finest chorus I have ever conducted."

Attention Mr. E. Kearns, Treasurer
SUBJECT: TREE-PLANTING PROGRAM

Dear Fellows:

It was a great pleasure to read in The Pine Cone of March 10 about your tree-planting program. Please accept the enclosed check for $10.00 to help you in your much-needed good work.

I suggest that a 2x4, or 4x4, redwood stake (long enough to give each young tree the protection it will need for several years) be driven at least 2 feet deep in the ground alongside. Further, I suggest that one side of the stake be planed smooth and that a committee of the Cubs take on the job of branding on it an identifying inscription which might read as follows:

PLANTED BY CUB PACK NO. 48 with month and year; for example: MAR. 1960.

It would be encouraging to others and a valuable record also to add the popular name and botanical name of the specie of tree.

If the Cubs are very careful and obtain permission, I suggest that the branding be done with a discarded screw-driver heated on the gas stove in some cooperative person's laundry. Wear gloves and be very careful. Better have some ointment and band-aids ready in case anyone gets a burn in spite of all precautions. When you are through with the job of branding, quench the tool in water before laying it down.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely yours,
G. F. ASHLEY

mercial kites will be allowed in the contests.

Groups for entrants are: seven years old and under; eight through eleven years old; 12 through 15 years; 16 years and older, including adults. Contests are prettiest kite; largest; high-flying in each group.

All kites in the festival are eligible for the Willis F. White prize for the best international kite. The late Reverend White founded the Carmel Kite Festival 30 years ago. There will also be a prize for the grand champion kite.

The smallest kite class is discontinued because of disputes about whether the tiny kites were actually airborne or just stayed aloft while the entrant ran.

Milton Stitt is chairman of the Lions Club committee for the kite festival. The Lions will give prizes for first place in each class. The recreation department will present ribbons to first, second and third place winners in each class.

Tuesday Meeting Set For Show Down On Junior College Price

the college district board as purchasers.

In a letter received Monday by Carmel Superintendent of Schools Stuart Mitchell, Deputy County Counsel Herbert L. Lindsley pointed out:

"The Board of Trustees of the Monterey Union High School District at the present time has no power solely by its own action to fix a price for the sale or lease of real properties to the junior college district. It is only at some indefinite and contingent future time when a majority of both boards (high school district and junior college district) would be different that a price for the present facilities could be negotiated."

The board of trustees of the new junior college district has the same membership as that of the high school district.

He added that there is no legal objection to the high school board's setting a price, but that such a statement would not be binding in any way.

Carmel trustee Dr. Grant Fletcher last night voiced the general feeling of the board:

"If Monterey would state a price, the pressure of public opinion would force them to keep to it. We would have this clear before calling an annexation election."

Chairman Fehring's only instruction to the newly-appointed delegates to the three-district meeting was:

"This is going to take a lot of—er—diplomacy."

Trustees are awaiting a survey report from Nuttall, designed to clarify Carmel's position in the annexation question. It will include relative costs and advantages of: 1.—Annexation to the new junior college district. 2.—Annexation to Hartnell. 3.—Doing nothing at all. It was moved last night that Nuttall be urged to complete the report by May 1, so that trustees can give all the facts to the voters before the proposed annexation election. Election will probably take place in June, if facts and figures from Monterey are available in time.

City Enjoined From Issuing Permit For Fenton Gas Pumps

Yesterday Superior Judge Anthony Brazil issued a writ of prohibition which restrains the Carmel Planning Commission from approving a building permit for the proposed Fenton shopping center parking garage and gas station until March 25, 10:00 o'clock.

At that time City Attorney John Morse will attempt to convince the court that the planning commission did not violate the city ordinance in interpreting parking lot to mean parking garage, and a gasoline service station to be an "accessory" use to a parking lot. The proposed garage and service station would be located in the Fenton block at Ocean Avenue and Junipero Streets, an area where gas stations and garages are prohibited. Parking lots are permitted.

The action was brought by Fred, Clara and Dale Leidig, whose attorneys are George R. Walker and Thomas S. Montgomery.

Named in the complaint as defendants are the Carmel Planning Commission, Carmel Plaza, a corporation, which seeks the building permit for the Fenton shopping center garage and gas station, Carmel Building Inspector, and the city council which upheld the planning commission's decision 3-2 on appeal.

Last night the city council authorized City Attorney John Morse to represent them in the action.

Carmel School Bond Election Delayed To Oct.

Reporting last night to the school board Tuesday's finance committee meeting, committee chairman George Yates suggested October as the date for Carmel's school bond election. He said that their figures are not ready because the architects have not yet completed cost estimates for new buildings and because the district is still negotiating for some of the sites. He also suggested that the board consider a bond issue to include construction needs for the next five or six years.

Yates recommended that the board appoint "at least a nucleus" of the bond committee at this time.

Trustees learned last night that parents and Department of Education officials alike frown on 50-cent lunches in school cafeterias. Assistant Superintendent Wayne Greenfield reported that the system is losing money on lunches priced at 30 to 35 cents, but that a proposed hike in prices has met with opposition from all sides. Parents have said they will go back to the paper bag, and J. M. Hemphill, supervisor of the State School Lunch Program, has suggested that perhaps Carmel should drop the "standard lunch" altogether if it feels it cannot operate without charging more.

Greenfield was asked to compare prices in other districts and report at a later meeting.

He also told trustees last night that school bus service on the county road above the Highlands Inn entrance has been suspended at the insistence of the California Highway Patrol and the district's insurance carriers. The route is dangerous, Greenfield explained, because of the narrow, twisting road and the blind turnaround at the old fire station at the top. The 12 children who are affected must now walk two-tenths of a mile to Highway 1 to meet the bus.

He added that the road down the hill to the highway is not really safe for young pedestrians, either, and suggested that an old path coming out onto the highway at a point north of the Highlands Inn entrance might be used by them, or that they might take Fern Canyon Drive to the gas station and meet the bus there.

It was suggested by Superintendent Mitchell that the parents concerned might get together to propose a solution to the problem.

Fenton Gas Pumps Now Offend City Planning Board

Carmel planning commissioners were displeased yesterday afternoon when they saw, for the first time, architect Olaf Dahlstrand's plans for the two-story Fenton Plaza parking garage. Not enough screening was provided for the gas pumps, a source of superior court litigation between citizens and the city, the commission, city council and building inspector.

The planning commission granted permission for the gas pumps as an accessory use for the parking garage on condition that the pumps were hidden from public view. Yesterday they rejected a rectangular planter in front of the pumps with only one tall shrub as inadequate.

Building inspector Floyd Adams presented the plans to the commission as certified in accordance with zoning in the area but drew attention to the insufficient screening.

Commission vice chairman Fred Keeble wanted much more landscaping along the edges of the property containing the parking garage and stated, "something other than growth might better screen the pumps from public view on Mission Street."

Commissioner Forence Josselyn also wanted "something high" in front of the pumps as well as around the edges of the upper parking story to hide parked cars from the view of adjacent occupancies.

Mr. Dahlstrand declared that safety factors made it impossible to provide too solid screening in front of the pumps. Entrance and exit to the parking garage were on each side of the screen he showed in yesterday's plans. Persons driving cars onto Mission Street from the garage need to see approaching traffic. Commissioners remained skeptical and Mr. Dahlstrand promised to see what he could do about the problem.

Commissioners can only study the plans. A restraining order yesterday from Superior Court Judge Anthony Brazil prevents them from issuing a building permit, as yet.

In other study session consideration yesterday commissioners were shown change of building plans for remodeling the Carmel Art Association Gallery, increasing shop space for the Howard Brunn store in Pine Inn, installation of an incinerator at Pilot's Market, addition of a new office at Carmel Glass Shop, a gerrymander demand for property belonging to Leo Tanous, addition of a balcony to Carmel Lodge with cast aluminum pillars and balustrade in leaf design and plot plan for an apartment development of 19 units, one manager's quarters and a coffee shop planned for construction by J. O. Handley and A. R. Vasconcellos.

Commissioners were also informed that Thompson McCrea wants his Tally-Ho Inn placed in one zone (C-1), not two as now exists; also that Robert Stanton objects to having his Normandy Inn apartments and motel placed in the proposed C-1-L transition zone. Attorney Malcolm Millard will present both complaints to the commission at their regular meeting next Wednesday afternoon.

An addition to the use permit allowed marine museum belonging to Allen Knight will also be on next week's agenda.

Roy C. Andrews

Roy Chapman Andrews, explorer and retired director of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City, died on Friday in a local hospital following a heart attack. He was 76 years old.

Dr. Andrews first visited Carmel in 1950 and returned to live in Carmel Valley in 1954. He was born in Beloit, Wisconsin, on January 26, 1884. After graduating from Beloit College in 1906, he joined the museum staff. In 1913 he was granted a master's degree by Columbia University and received honorary doctor of science degrees from Brown University in 1926 and Beloit College in 1928. Following his retirement in 1942 from the position of director of the American Museum of Natural History, he was appointed honorary director.

Dr. Andrews began his explorations in 1908 on an expedition to Alaska. He followed this in 1909-10 by a voyage as special naturalist on the U.S.S. Albatross to Borneo, the Dutch East Indies and Celebes. In 1911-12 he explored North Korea and the next year returned to Alaska with the Borden Expedition. He specialized in the study of whales and other water mammals during these years.

From 1916-1930, Dr. Andrews led a series of expeditions to Central Asia and Gobi Desert for the American Museum of Natural History. These were the largest land expeditions that had ever left the United States and consisted of 40 men including experts in the sciences of topography, geology, paleontology, zoology, botany and photography. They traveled with eight automobiles and 150 camels and discovered some of the richest fossil beds in the world.

These scientists led by Dr. Andrews found the first dinosaur eggs, also part of the skeleton of the world's largest prehistoric mammal. The results of the expeditions were published in 12 volumes.

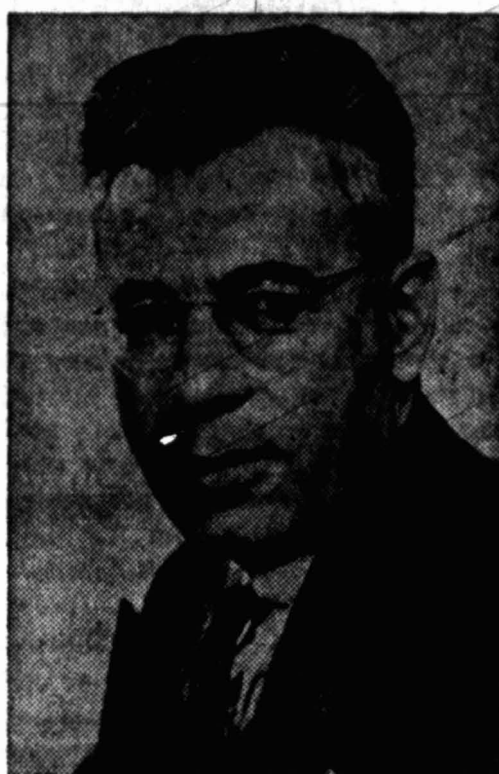

Awarded many medals by scientific societies in this country and abroad, Dr. Andrews was a fellow of the National Geographic Society, American Association for the Advancement of Science, New York Academy of Sciences, American Geographic Society and the New York Zoological Society. He was a member of various societies and clubs and president of the Explorers Club from 1931-35.

As a result of his studies and explorations he wrote over two dozen books and numerous scientific papers.

He is survived by his wife, Wilhelmina of Carmel Valley, and two sons by a previous marriage, George Borup Andrews of Sherman, Texas, and Roy Kevin Andrews of Athens, Greece, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Monday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with the Reverend Donald Johnson of the Carmel Valley Community Church officiating.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Dr. Andrews may do so in the form of donations to their favorite charities.

Dr. G. Clifford Carl of Victoria, British Columbia, will show and narrate his intriguing and brilliant color film "Secrets of the Sea" at the Sunset Auditorium this Saturday, March 19, at 8:00 p. m. This is the last in a series of Audubon Screen Tours co-sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society and the Carmel Unified School District.

Dr. Carl was educated at the University of British Columbia and at the University of Toronto where he obtained his doctorate. For some years he was a member of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada, doing field work in shellfish studies and in fresh water fisheries. Later he joined the staff of the Provincial Museum of Natural History and Anthropology and became Director in 1942.

In this extraordinary color film, Dr. Carl explores coastal waters of the Pacific Northwest showing the great variety of intriguing and colorful creatures. Brilliant yellow, orange and pink starfish are seen in detail. The prickly sea urchin pushes itself over the rocks by means of its spines and teeth. Hermit crabs spar among themselves; and a fearful-looking fish, the skate, swims by on wing-like fins. On the shores he shows creatures that owe their existence to the sea and the life it fosters such as auklets, petrels, tufted puffins, cormorants and murres.

Venite Ad Romanam Cenam

By Jane Skillman

As wealthy Roman citizens stroll through the doors of Dido's palace on March 17, 1960, they will hardly recognize their own Carmel High School Cafeteria. These 20th Century Romans are really Carmel High School Latin students.

Since 1945, when Mrs. Elise Beaton began the tradition, the Roman Banquet has become one of the strong traditions at Carmel High.

This year's theme is Love Through the Ages. This theme will be carried out in the decorations and entertainment.

The menu for the evening includes typical Roman dishes. The meal is being prepared by Miss Evelyn Sharp and Miss Dorothy Wright. A cake sale was held on March 9 to raise additional money for the banquet although the initial funds are supplied by the students.

This year the Latin Club members have chosen Ron Faia and Angelita Conception as Caesar and Calpurnia. The guest of honor is

The Latin Club would like to thank the Piccadilly Nursery for lending plants, Mr. Odello for donating artichokes, and especially Shirley Flint and Miss Diane Evans for their organization and help.

WESTON RUGS DISPLAYED IN LIBRARY CRAFT SHOWCASE

The work of a new member of the Carmel Crafts Guild is on display in the Harrison Memorial Library in the Guild's showcase during March, that of Joseph Weston, weaver.

He has chosen rugs with Scandinavian precedent to show in the library case with the exception of one which is based on authentic Navajo techniques.

Mr. and Mrs. Weston came to Carmel originally on their wedding trip. Then followed years of architectural practice in Los Angeles and consulting work in Tacoma, Washington, before they returned here two and a half years ago to live in a house Mr. Weston designed so that he and Mrs. Weston could pursue their crafts.

Art On The Peninsula

A show containing the work of 38 American painters opened last week in the Monterey Peninsula College Library Gallery and will remain on display through Friday. Sponsors of the exhibit are the college and the Monterey Peninsula Chapter, American Federation of Arts.

The pictures are on loan from University of Arizona and include paintings from the Gallagher, James and Pfeiffer collections. The latter was previously exhibited at the Metropolitan Museum, New York, and the M. H. de Young Museum, San Francisco.

Styles vary from representational to abstract. Media are oil, watercolor, gouache, wash drawing, silk screen, tempera and two drawings. The work of the 38 painters has been selected to provide an example of the variety of top art expression in America during the past 50 years. It is the first comprehensive exhibit of paintings by outside artists to be shown on the Peninsula and proved to be a stimulating experience to those attending the invitational preview.

Artists represented in the show are Milton Avery, Harold Baumbach, Charles Burchfield, Nicolai Cikovsky, Rex Clauson, Stuart Davis, Arthur Dove, Joseph Falzone, Lionel Feininger, Arshile Gorky, Morris Graves, William Gropper, George Grosz, Davis Heron, Joseph Hirsch, Edward Hopper, John Hultberg, Matsumi Kanemitsu, Morris Kantor, Benjamin Kopman, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Walt Kuhn, Jack Levine, Jean Liberte, John Marin, Reginald Marsh, Georgia O'Keeffe, I. Rice Pereira, Abraham Rattner, Anton Refregier, Larry Rivers, Ben Shahn, Charles Sheeler, Joseph Sheppard, Theodore Stamos, Raphael Soyer and Mark Tobey.

The Hidden Village Art Gallery, 220 Oliver Street, Monterey, is showing a collection of paintings of California Artists. The gallery will exhibit several works each of Emil J. Kosa, Douglas Parshall, Robert C. Clark, Burt Procter, Robert Watson, Abel G. Warshawsky, Constantine Cherkas, Alton Aaible, S. C. Yuan, Leonard Kestner, Ruth Osgood.

Except for Mondays, when the gallery is closed, hours are: noon to 5:00 o'clock and 7:00 to 12:00 at night.

Starting today and continuing through April 6, The Lawrence Drake Gallery will exhibit a show entitled Younger Southern California Artists.

Gallery House hours are 11:00 to 5:00 o'clock; closed Monday.

The Feingarten Galleries announces an exhibition of paintings by Mary Gehr opening tomorrow. Miss Gehr, a native of Chicago, has played ingenue parts in the theatre and was a ballet dancer with the Chicago Opera Company. Later she turned to illustrating children's books and studied at the Art Institute of Chicago. She has exhibited in a number of eastern galleries.

At the March meeting of the Board of Directors of the Carmel Art Association three additional members were added to the list of exhibiting painters and graphic artists. They are: Virginia Frey, a resident of Monterey, who has exhibited locally at the Carmel Center Gallery and Monterey County Fair, and who has been a teacher of art;

Kathleen Adair Brown, a resident of the Peninsula area, who has studied at the California School of Fine Arts, is a member of the San Francisco Women Artists, and who has exhibited in the San Francisco Museum of Art;

Pat Carey, of Monterey, who has studied at the Chouinard, Los Angeles City College, and Jepson Art Institute, and who has exhibited at Pomona College, Los Angeles County Fair, and who is at present specializing in drawing.

All members of the Carmel Art Association are reminded to reduce the number of their works at the gallery to four by April 1, since it is expected work will begin on remodeling the gallery at that date; and also are requested to limit to 48 inches the overall width of paintings to be exhibited.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

LOCAL CRAFTSMAN'S WORK IN STITCHERY SHOW

An exhibit of contemporary stitchery is being shown at the Contemporary Crafts Gallery on Sixth Avenue between Lincoln and Dolores Streets.

A renewed interest in embroidery as interior decoration has led to a revival of tapestry making in Aubusson, France. In the United States craftsmen are creating new forms of stitchery. The show contains examples, some of which have been featured in national magazines. A local craftsman, Shaz, is represented by a room-divider of woven linen with plastic strips used for weft.

Which man is a
PG&E owner?

Probably both of them are ... because PG&E is owned by thousands and thousands of men and women from all walks of life. No one of them owns as much as one-tenth of 1% of the Company. And whether you're one of our 225,000 shareholders or not, you have a stake in PG&E ownership if you have an insurance policy or participate in a pension plan, or own shares in a mutual fund. PG&E securities are held by such institutional investors as these. Thus directly or indirectly nearly everybody is an owner of PG&E ... and probably you are too!

THREE POEMS

I
OUR LIVES ARE LOCKED IN Houses built of sleep:

We ourselves, waking shadows therein
That creak and strain with invisible Life.

And yet no other hand
Wrings speech from this obdurate stone
No other voice feeds this desire

Than that which drives
God back into the world
To search for it.

II
TO MAKE A FLOWER
It is necessary first to pretend that you've never seen one but think instead of birds
for their singing is also the speech of flowers then try to understand what they say at dawn and watch where they go in the evening follow them and watch constantly until a flower you've never seen grows in each of your eyes

III
SAXIFRAGE

Saxophones gasping conclude an orgy of sorrows on the sweating bandstand at 4 A.M. of a mad Sabbath, mourning. Flowers of the skull turn to weep at the bloodshot sunrise, and bodies fall through rescuing doors into the Light which is skin of another struggle. Just keep walking, feet—There's a lot of pavement to cover between you and heaven!

"Meals On Wheels"
For The Elderly

A new Carmel Foundation project, Meals on Wheels, is soon to be in operation. Mrs. Sarett announced at the annual meeting of the organization last week. A moderately priced noon meal, prepared in an accredited kitchen, will be delivered by volunteers to older persons who are ill or those who find preparation of adequate meals too much of a problem. Mrs. Sarett also mentioned that Carmel Foundation had helped senior craftsmen arrange a year-round outlet for their work.

Mrs. Carl Menneken was re-elected president of the Carmel Foundation Board of Directors. Other officers elected for the coming year were Captain Archer M. R. Allen, vice president; Mrs. Laurence Barretto, secretary; Leet W. Bissell, treasurer.

The board of directors, to serve until 1963, will consist of Dr. Robert R. Aurner, Leet W. Bissell, Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, Mrs. Fred Glascock, Mrs. Gladys Mc Cloud, Frank Grover and Mrs. Hans von Richter.

Members of the nominating committee were Dr. Remsen Bird, chairman, Mrs. Barretto, Mrs. Marshall Bond, James Parks and Miss Blanche Tolmie.

Mrs. Ruth Sarett, executive director of Carmel Foundation, reported that 400 persons have benefited from the group's home service work. Monthly attendance at Town House is over 550 persons.

Following the meeting tea was served at Town House by a committee composed of Mrs. P. H. Hudgins, chairman, Mrs. Roy Chapman Andrews, Mrs. Morden Buck, Mrs. C. V. Raynes, Mrs. Clarissa Mitchell and Mrs. Charles Stewart.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

Desire Ligeti, bass-baritone of the San Francisco Opera, who has also been soloist for the Bach Festival, gave a distinguished recital at Sunset Auditorium Saturday as a benefit for the Co-ordinated Hungarian Relief. His presentation of the German lieder of Schubert and Liszt was not only under rare vocal control of a voice of almost unlimited dimensions and modulation but served to express a great dramatic gift, than which no lieder is really complete. He reminded me of the great German dramatic lieder-singer, Vollner, whom I heard with amazement as a school girl in London. The arias of Mozart, Verdi and Moussorgsky reflected Ligeti's operatic experience and facility. The accompaniment for Ligeti's program was played by Isabelle Herselberg with fine comprehension of musical tone and flexibility too seldom given. The Russian Division Student Choir of the U.S. Army Language School contributed the second half of the program with Bartok Hungarian Folk Songs and Russian Hymns under the capable baton of Nicholas Vorobion which delighted an audience that might have been larger but which was appreciative and demonstrative. Ligeti should be heard here again.

On Sunday the Stockton Chorale made its third year appearance at the Wayfarer Church. It was the first event of a tour to Palo Alto, Sacramento, San Leandro and Stockton. At the last named, the concert is to be with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. This chorus of 34 voices under the direction of Arthur Holton, teacher in the College of the Pacific and Stockton College, again demonstrated its capacity for tone and responsiveness to its conductor. The program was an unusual one, grouped under the heading What does Easter mean to You? It consisted of applicable verses by various authors read by different members and each followed by solos among which If With All Your Hearts from Mendelssohn's Elijah was outstandingly sung by Ernest Bates, with deep feeling and the kind of pure tenor quality seldom found, and nine other soloists. A number of Negro Spirituals and Four Folk Songs by Brahms, as well as Jubilate Deo by Gabrieli for double chorus and brass ensemble, completed the program. Holton's conducting is extremely energetic with which he draws the most from the group that maintains perfect pitch without instruments. It was listened to by an audience with reverence for the thought involved and addressed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray at intermission as well as the conductor's pertinent remarks. Many enjoyed meeting these dedicated singers at a reception following in Fellowship Hall.

The Carmel Chamber Music Society gives its second concert at the Woman's Club on Sunday; the La Malaguena return engagement at Sunset for Flamenco dancing is on Friday, and the final concert of the Carmel Music Society, the famous Wagner Chorale, March 26. Elizabeth Schwarzkopf, favorite concert and opera artist of European origin, will make her first San Francisco appearance with the Symphony under Jorda this week. Tickets are still available for Friday's matinee. In her teens this artist won top places for theory, harmony, musical history, piano, viola and singing, an example of modern requirements for successful musicians before the public today.

WORLD AFFAIRS MEETING

Dr. Joan Bondurant, political science lecturer at the University of California, will speak on Mahatma Gandhi, His Philosophy and Impact, Past and Future, in Carmel High School cafeteria tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock. The meeting, sponsored by the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula, is open to the public without charge.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

Telephone men wearing headsets aren't too unusual a sight in our business. This man, for instance, makes final checks on newly installed phones to make sure they're ready to use. Also, from his special test desk he traces out trouble reports so repair men can get right on the job. You may never have occasion to see a deskman at work. But remember he's always ready to track down any sign of trouble on your line and help keep your telephone a service you can count on.

Claudia Thomas of Monterey is one of the girls you may talk to when you call to report your telephone out of order. Claudia, who has been with the Telephone Company for 5½ years finds out from you what trouble you are having and gives this information to the men on the test board who dispatch a repairman to put your service back in order.

Local telephone people, like Claudia, take pride in the fast and efficient way they keep your service in top working order and to their customers, this means a repair service that is of no cost to them that they can rely on.

They opened their house eight miles from Squaw Valley for the Winter Olympics and enjoyed the Sierra country in winter so much, even the six feet of snow around the house, they decided to remain in their Lake Forest home for another two weeks. During the Olympics they had eight of their grandchildren as their guests, as well as the children's parents.

In three weeks' time the Wisharts plan to see Spring come to the Northwest when they visit their youngest son, Bill, and his family in Ashland, Oregon.

Mike Again on List

A release from Annapolis, Maryland, reports that Midshipman Michael M. Raggett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Raggett, has been named to the Superintendent's List at the United States Naval Academy for the first half of the Second Term of the 1959-60 academic year.

He attained an outstanding academic average and demonstrated proficiency in physical education to gain a place on the list. It's not the first time Mike has so distinguished himself since entering the Academy in 1958 after graduating second in his class at Carmel High School.

Dale Harris Wins Gold Pin

In recognition of outstanding scholarship, Dale Harris of Carmel will be awarded a gold pin at the Monterey Peninsula College annual Alpha Gamma Sigma honor society banquet tonight at the Mark Thomas Inn. Shin-Ho Chung of Pebble Beach will receive a similar award.

Dr. Frederick Huber, MPC president, will make the awards. Rip Matteson, dean of instruction, will install the new honor society members. Dr. Louis Balsam, retiring sociology instructor, will speak.

Boyd, Johnson, On Census Crew

Appointment of crew leaders for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing in this area was announced today by Supervisor Mrs. Kathryn Keith of the Census Bureau's temporary district office in San Luis Obispo. They are: Thomas H. Boyd and Joseph J. Johnston, Carmel; Carl E. Saffholm, Carmel Valley; Mrs. Minnie Coyle, Monterey and Mrs. Blanche Howe, Seaside.

Each crew leader will supervise about 20 enumerators in the nationwide census which begins April 1. Crew leader training began on March 9 for most crew leaders while the remainder started training on March 14. Topics to be covered in the training sessions, which will be held at San Luis Obispo, include procedures for recruiting of census takers, how to train their census takers, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and the supervision of census takers to insure a complete and accurate count.

Council Sees New Central District Plan, Ordinance

Street and an L-shaped section below Lincoln south of Ocean; C-1-S zone (light) surrounds C-1-C with-in the heavy lined business district boundaries; C-2 zone is the same color but enclosed in the northeast section by a heavy line on each side of Junipero Street; C-1-L zone (dotted) each side of Ocean below Monte Verde and Pine Inn property northeast of Ocean above Monte Verde.

Mountain View Avenue will be closed below Torres for a proposed park, catercorner from Devendorf Plaza. The proposed civic center at Fourth and Junipero is also shown on the plan above. These areas are park zones shown by tree marks and also include the closed mall, Ocean between Dolores and San Carlos, the parking areas on Ocean east and west of the mall, and the city tennis courts and undeveloped park property along Camino Del Monte below Second Street.

Uses permitted in C-1-C zone are retail stores, service establishments, offices, studios, and apartments on the second floor of structures (two apartments per 2500 square feet of land), plus conditional uses for businesses considered in accordance with C-1-C uses, after a use permit is granted.

C-1-S zone will contain multiple dwellings, hotels, motels, lodging houses, nursing homes for 20 patients, commercial service establishments (including all permitted and conditional uses allowed in C-1-C zone), parking lots.

Conditional uses in C-1-S zone include public parks, public buildings and grounds and public utility and service installations and structures when the planning commission finds them necessary to public health, welfare and safety; incidental and accessory structures and uses on a site necessary to operate a conditional use; also blacksmith shops, building materials yards, bus depots, cabinet shops, carpet and rug cleaning and dyeing businesses, churches, parish houses and other religious institutions, exterminators shop and yard, feed and fuel stores, food lockers, gas stations, heating and ventilating shops, ice storage houses, lumber yards, pet and bird stores, plumbing shops, sheet metal shops. Many of these latter conditional uses under present zoning are not allowed outside C-2 zone.

Uses allowed in C-2 zone in the new zoning ordinance are all permitted and conditional uses in the C-1-C and C-1-S zones; also automobile repairing, overhauling and painting; laundries; linen supply and diaper supply firms; repair garages; self-service laundries; sheet glass shops; warehouses, except for the storage of fuel or flammable liquids.

The fourth zone, C-1-L, is to provide appropriately located areas for multiple dwellings (apartments, hotels, motels, and certain small shops and services related to the multiple dwellings).

Conditional uses in C-1-L for which the planning commission will give a use permit are: bars; gift shops; incidental services and agencies operating off a motel lobby only; parking; professional and business offices; restaurants; retail stores.

All building in the commercial districts are subject to design review. Site, landscaping and architectural plans must be submitted to the planning commission. Landscaping must be maintained in front and side yards except when the yards are used for purposes of the business.

Lodgings, motels and hotels must have not less than 15 percent of the building site landscaped with actual living plantings. These areas must be watered, weeded and maintained and replaced if necessary.

No sign in the business district or outdoor advertising structure or display of any kind shall be allowed unless it identifies the business and shall not exceed 16 square feet in size. Signs must be approved by the planning commission. No self-illuminated, reflective, glossy, flashing or moving sign of any type will be allowed. Letters may only be 12 inches high and no sign may project above the eaves or parapet of a building.

Height of buildings in all four commercial zones is limited to two stories (30 feet).

Front yards are not required except where buildings abut the residence district, (R-1), then they are seven and a half feet; across from R-1, five feet.

No side yards are required, except when commercial buildings abut R-1, then ten feet of side yard plus one foot for each three feet of the structure above 12 feet will be required. Across from R-1, side yards must be five feet.

Rear yards are only required in the new zoning ordinance when business buildings abut R-1, then they must be ten feet plus one foot for each foot of the structure above 12 feet.

Public hearing by both the planning commission and the city council will be held before the new zoning ordinance is adopted.

Hilary R. Hood

Hilary Ralph Hood died last night in the Carmel Highlands, presumably from a heart attack. He was visiting his wife, Dorothy, a resident of the Highlands.

He was born in London, June 7, 1886, and made his home at Stratton-Audley, England.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a son, Richard G. P. Hood of Hollywood.

The Reverend David Hill, All Saints' Episcopal Church, will conduct services tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

Letters..

Carmel-by-the-Sea, California
P. O. Box 1141

March 10, 1960

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone:

Pursuant to my letter published in your March 3 issue of the Pine Cone, pointing out the tragic inability of a materially minded segment of our City Council to grasp the import of sabotaging the meaning and intent of our basic law, the Preamble to Zoning Ordinance, I would again beg your indulgence to present my comments as to the unimaginative and uninspired action of the Council on March 9 last.

First, and most important, they destroyed the meaning and intent of the basic law upon which Carmel has guided her destiny for the last thirty years and by which she has until now, sustained her distinctive village characteristic for that time.

Second, Council action tremendously encouraged the incentive for absentee ownership and control of the business function in our community to the ultimate downgrading of other home owned business premises, entailing the loss of small personal type enterprises reflective of Carmel history and background, with consequent reduction of tax revenues incident to the depreciation of property values and subsequent lower appraisal values.

Third, to my personal knowledge, the short sighted action of the Council definitely alienated the placement of a fund of some two hundred thousand dollars that had been destined for the creation of a Carmel Cultural Foundation, whose object was to enhance the activities of the Harrison Memorial Library by the addition of a research unit in history and economics. The fund will now seek lodgment in a community more sensitive to its historical heritage.

To contemplate a City Council so obsessed with the commercialization of our village to the repulsion of its would-be endowers of its cultural life and growth, presents a picture that all true lovers of the village of Carmel must view with infinite sadness.

C. A. DeCamp.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP DATES

Dates for the 1960 California Amateur Golf Championship at Pebble Beach were set for September 19-25, and in 1961 they will be changed to June 26 to July 2 and will be held that time of year in the future.

THREE FIRE CALLS

Fire department equipment went out on three calls this week, two for chimney fires on Sunday. At 1:07 o'clock in the afternoon the department answered a call to Mrs. J. M. Peet's residence, Eighth and Santa Fe. At 7:40 in the evening they put out a fire in the June Simpson Restaurant chimney. No damage.

Monday at 10:00 o'clock in the morning the department put out a fire in the furnace closet at the Roger Hope residence, Casanova and Eleventh, with fire extinguishers and a garden hose.

CASUAL SHOP REOPENS

The Casual Shop, Ocean Avenue below Mission Street, has reopened after alterations which make it one of the lightest and brightest shops in town. The interior decoration of the shop is in color harmony for tartans, a specialty of the shop which also sells imported tweeds.

Richard Richardson opened the Casual Shop five and a half years ago. It has grown constantly, he reports, and the new changes increase the area of the business to three and a half times its original size.

A modest start isn't in the vocabulary of Carmel Valleyites. To Sheriff's Sergeant Johnnie Johansen's invitation to form a flying club last week, 17 announced they were interested. Sheriff's Sergeant Johnnie, who has been flying 20 years and has an instructor's license, has called an organization meeting for Wednesday, will have a lawyer on hand to incorporate the organization, and "then we'll buy a plane."

"We have an airfield," observed S. S. Johnnie; "We might as well use it."

The Pine Cone congratulates a new Carmel publication and wishes it well, The Naughty Pine, newspaper of the Sunset School students. Its editor is Janice Wilder. Diana Thomas is co-editor. Reporters: Philip Zobel, Carolyn Cotchett, Dennis Crabb, Mari Kiger, Pam Barnard, Phyllis Pilone, Jean McEwen, Susan Campbell, Jerri Harrison, Bill Woodson, Diane Sampson, Robin Strosnider, Toshia Seeders, Ann Haber, Janet Krieger.

It publishes every other week and contains editorial comment, general news, gossip, sports, and a poetry column.

Janice Wilder, in her maiden editorial, after introducing her staff, says:

"Incidentally, it has been brought to my attention that certain seventh and eighth grade boys seem to think that putting their hands where they don't belong—on girls—is pretty funny. These actions show much juvenile immaturity. Also, these vile demonstrations can't go on forever. You have to grow up sometime, why not start by acting your age!"

"I am sure that this paper will be a success, for my staff and I are really serious about getting down to work."

Forest Commissioner Robert D. Strum has a new tree to take care of. A firm supporter of Carmel's reforestation program, he has planted four trees on his property at San Carlos Street and Thirteenth Avenue, two pines, a cypress and a redwood.

The street frontage along his property is one of the city areas to be reforested in accordance with the program outlined by Planning Commissioner Hugh Smith. Mr. Strum asked the city to get busy. They planted a tree, "his badge of office." This pine is being watered by Forest Commissioner Strum, also a city council candidate. "I also give it fertilizer," he declares. Inhabitants of the block are interested and encouraged.

Arne Halle, vice president and manager of the Crocker Anglo Bank in Carmel, enriched his daughter's piggy bank account by 22 cents last week.

Outside Womble's Pharmacy he saw 22 pennies on the Ocean Avenue sidewalk, completely disregarded by anyone, and picked them up.

Council Allows Removal Of Pines For Power Line

Last night in a special meeting preceding the joint meeting with the planning commission, the city council gave permission to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company to remove two pines, one in the middle of Junipero at Eighth, the other at the southwest corner of Junipero and Eighth.

Lloyd Weer, Carmel manager of P. G. and E., told the council that the trees would interfere with a new line the company intends to bring in along Eighth to replace lines 31 years old which have become over-burdened. He said that it has been suggested that the new line be put underground, but that the increased cost of underground installation would result in a raise in electricity rates. The city of Walnut Creek had set up an underground utility district and the public utility commission had ruled for the company.

James Buffington made the motion to grant permission for removal of the trees. Tom May seconded. There was one no vote, Gunnar Norberg's.

There was first reading of an ordinance which prohibits private hiring of city police in their off-time hours for such duties as traffic handling at weddings, school and theatre events, etc. Private individuals wishing to hire them must do so by contract with the city. In this way, the officers are protected by city insurance if they are injured while engaged in an off-hours job.

Proposed Ordinance Requires Businesses Furnish Own Parking

number of beds; libraries, museums and galleries, one to blank square feet of public area; lodging houses, one per guest room or blank number of beds; multiple dwellings, (apartment houses and duplexes) three parking spaces per blank dwelling units; public assembly, including clubs, lodges, and auditoriums, one per blank number of seats, or blank number of square feet of floor spaces in areas of public assembly; schools, public and private, one per blank number of employees; high schools, colleges and adult schools, one per blank number of employees or blank number of students.

These parking regulations are a requirement of the use of the land and are the responsibility of the user of the land and not of the owner.

There are three ways of providing the required parking:

It may be located on the site of the business.

It may be located on a different site from the site of the use for which it is required.

The requirements may be satisfied with "in lieu payments."

"In order to simplify compliance with these regulations and to insure the most efficient parking and the most effective circulation system to the parking areas, the City of Carmel will accept, at the option of the user of the land, an annual payment in compliance with this article in lieu of providing the required parking. Such payment shall be based on the number of spaces required by this section for a particular use. The amount of payment per required parking space will be established by the City of Carmel annually and may reflect the interest of the investment required to provide the parking space.

"It is not the intention of the City of Carmel to create an unlimited number of parking spaces. When the city determines that enough land has been devoted to parking, the amount of the annual in-lieu payments per space shall be the total cost to the city to provide that amount of parking divided by the total number of spaces for which in-lieu payments are required.

"All money collected by the city for in lieu of parking payments shall be spent for that purpose only, except for a reasonable operating charge to be determined by the city council."

"Colorado System" Frees Teachers To Teach—Edwards

High School, Golden, Colorado.

All students taking the biology course are together Monday and Friday in the lecture hall for one period. Wednesday and Thursday, in sections, students have two hours laboratory work. Tuesday instructors meet with one or the other small section.

This system has proved better than taking one period of biology five days a week, Mr. Edwards was told by Dr. Lobb. Using control groups, the project has proved that there is no lessening in learning, more preparation by the teachers is accomplished and the teaching is better because teachers are stimulated.

The same system may be used to teach tenth grade English to 240 students. In speech lecture hall classes specialized community groups, such as the Toastmasters organization in Colorado, may participate as judges of section-screened speakers. Guest speakers in all subjects bring in further community participation. Parents and students work together.

The only instance where team teaching does not work is in foreign language instruction, Mr. Edwards discovered in Colorado.

Schedule modification leaves blanks in the day which may be filled with study hall or other subjects such as music, art or shop.

In the Jefferson County schools a "clerk" supervises study halls. Clerks are non-certificated personnel, freeing teachers to teach. This is impossible in California, Mr. Edwards remarks. Any person in charge of a group of students in California schools must have teaching credentials.

But Mr. Edwards has ideas about this problem, too.

He already has volunteer qualified "readers" helping English teachers at the High school and he is going to ask that in next year's school budget $17,000 be set aside to pay the readers. "Just asking," he emphasizes.

Apart from study hall, Mr. Edwards sees many opportunities to utilize free periods provided by schedule modification.

"We, perhaps, overemphasize the academic subjects at Carmel High School," he remarks. "Rather than study halls we might have opportunities for Carmel students to study all the arts."

"Every Carmel student should have the opportunity while in high school to learn about the great masters in art, the great composers in music, the history of jazz, and learn to use their hands in art metal or ceramics shop classes. Schedule modification could provide these opportunities for Carmel students," Mr. Edwards points out.

He remarked that participation in the enrichment program under schedule modification would in no way jeopardize acquisition of college or graduation credits.

Schedule modification could give more counseling time, independent supervised study, and, above all, the high school student would learn to take more responsibility for his studies, actions and activities, Mr. Edwards thinks.

"Every student would also have the incentive to experience local

13 Months Old Baby Drowns In Carmel River

Laura Ann Cummings, 13 months old, drowned in the Carmel River late yesterday afternoon.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Cummings, Lower Circle, Robles del Rio, whose home is on the river.

When the child was missed at 3:45, neighbors and Cub Pack 76, holding a meeting at the home of Mrs. Nancy Ledew, joined the search. Joey Branco found the child in the river about 200 feet down stream from her home. Lt. Richard Coupe helped him bring her ashore. Deputy Sheriff Bob Davis gave artificial respiration until the Carmel Valley Fire Department first aid crew and a doctor arrived. The latter pronounced her dead.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Mission Mortuary.

C. C. P. T. AND C. T. A. CONFERENCE

The Role of the Classroom Teacher in the P-TA will be discussed at a California Congress of Parents and Teachers and California Teachers Association conference at Asilomar which starts tomorrow and ends Sunday.

Fifty-five classroom teachers from all areas of the state will attend the meetings, also 21 district P-TA presidents, all members of the California Parent Teacher Association state board.

Special speakers will be Mrs. P.D. Bevil, National P-TA Congress safety chairman, Dr. Arthur S. Corey, C.T.A. executive secretary, and Mrs. Mary Stewart Rhodes, C.T.A. president.

music opportunities, appreciate the art in the community, and learn to use his hands in a creative crafts medium," Mr. Edwards concluded.
